The Country Life Problem

Not long ago, says a writer in the "Problems of Democracy" department of The Literary Digest, a well-known traveler and writer was being shown through the immense Capitol building of a Middle-Western State. "Just see the great array of officials we employ," said his guide, "every man of them was born on a farm." And then the visitor was shown through a quarter of the city where "you can go a mile and see only the homes of retired farmers." Quoth the guide, "This is a wonderful farming State."

Yet, comments the Literary Digest writer, the boys on its farms dream of jobs in town, and old folks on its farms dream of homes in town, and, as soon as they can arrange it, hire somebody else to run the farm, and move away. In less "wonderful" farming States, meanwhile, you occasionally see farms abandoned outright, but even the custom of farming by proxy is deplorable.

In "The Country Life Movement," Mr. L. H. Bailey observes, "Farming by proxy or by any absentee method is as disastrous in the long run as the doing of any other business by proxy. I hold that it is essential that the very best people live actually on the land. The crops are there. The livestock is there. The machinery is there. All the investment is in the place itself. If this business is to be most effective, a good man must be constantly with it and manage it. A farm is not like a store or a factory that is shut up at night and on Sunday. The more difficult and complex the farming business becomes, the greater will be the necessity that a good man remain with it."

"The fundamental need," declares Mr. Bailey, "is to place effectively educated men and women in the open country." In his opinion all else depends on this. No formal means can be of any permanent avail until men and women of vision and with trained minds are at hand to work out the plans in an orderly way. Agriculture is now a school subject. It is recognized to be such in the schools course of studies, in the minds of the people, and of educationalists and legislators. It has found its way into the high schools. In Western Canada it is the outstanding department in our Universities.

But do the young people thus trained return to the open country? Some of them, of course, but a lamentably small percentage of the total. Why not a larger number? Does farming pay? Is life in the open country attractive? Farming has its off years, and sometimes series of years, when the financial returns are not commensurate with the effort put forth. But the same thing is true of business generally. And assuredly farming today pays better than in the days of our grandparents. There are still many hardships in the more remote and pioneer districts, and conditions generally may not be quite so favorable as in the years before the war, but neither are conditions in the cities as favorable, with thousands of men out of employment. Such a situation is, however, only temporary; it will be overcome both in city and country.

Life in the open country is not as attractive as it should be for other reasons. The recreative life of the country community greatly needs to be stimulated. Not only games and recreation days need to be encouraged, but the spirit of relief from continuous and deadening toil must be encouraged. The country population needs to be livened up.

How is this awakening to be brought about? The small towns and villages, which are the real centres of all country districts, and whose very existence depends upon their surrounding farming communities, have a duty and an opportunity in this respect. In his admirable book, "The Little Town," Mr. H. P. Douglass devotes a chapter to "The Town's Country." Says Mr. Douglass: "The town's country is the area which trades with it, which makes common cause with it in buying and selling, in credit and transportation facilities." Its typical functionaries are the retail merchant, the banker, the postmaster, the doctor, the implement agent, the railway agent.

Moreover, the town's country is the area which comes to it for play, education and worship. Here are the country's moving pictures, its exhibitions and sports grounds, and its Chautauques. The country's high schools are here, and most of its ministers of religion live here. Here, too, the farmer may not directly share in them, are those social groups and activities which he imitates and possibly envies. Most of the social organizations to which he may belong centre here.

Therefore, the small town has a duty to its own particular "country." And the opportunity is as great as the duty. Among the chief needs of the farming community today is wholesome recreation. There is little community life in the open country, except what centres in the small towns and villages. Its lack constitutes what one man has called "the intolerable condition of country life." In almost every other respect, life in the open country has improved. It is a less isolated life. Railways, telephones, automobiles have greatly relieved loneliness. But is it a jollier life? No one pretends that it is. There is no play for children; no recreation for the young folks. Yet it must be made jollier or we shall see more and more farms abandoned or farmed by proxy and more and more farm people moving to the city.

If we are to "place effectively educated men and women in the open country," men and women "of vision and with trained minds"—if we are to place them there and keep them there, we must promise them not only prosperity, but a jovial, sociable, merry existence which they will honestly prefer to life in town.

Canadian Wheat

Large Quantity Has Gone Over the Line Recently.

A solid train of forty-two cars of Saskatchewan wheat passed through North Portal over the Soo line recently, en route to buyers and millers in the United States, who have been importing the wheat in large quantities in order to get as much as possible across the line before the duty imposed by the Young tariff bill, which is expected to come into effect soon in that country, becomes law. Twenty-five carloads of Alberta cattle were also sent across the border recently.

Mrs. A. Crawford Tells How Cuticura Healed Little Girl

"My little girl's trouble started with small pimples on the back of her head and they spread down her back. The pimples were hard and red and they itched and burned terribly. She scratched and irritated them and they later developed into sore eruptions. Her hair fell out and became thin and dry, and scales fell off on her clothing."

"I used a free sample of Cuticura and the pimples commenced to dry up. I bought more and when I had used one cake of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment she was healed." (Signed) Mrs. A. Crawford, 83 Parker St., Bangor, Maine, Jan. 22, 1923.

FRACTURED JAWS.

Copyright, 1921, by Rea Proctor McGee.

Usually when a jaw is fractured everybody knows about it. But there are cases—in fact a good many cases—where a jaw has been fractured either by a fall, or in boxing, or football, or in almost any sport—and the patient has never known it, and it is only by an X-ray examination for some other condition that the scar is discovered and it is realized that at some previous period the jaw had been broken.

Usually a broken jaw is very difficult to hold in place until it unites. Where the pieces are not properly held, there will be a fibrous union. The fibrous union is a sort of a cartilage or gristle that grows across the broken spot and makes an extra joint. This condition, of course, cripples the jaw so that mastication is almost impossible.

When a jaw is fractured it is absolutely necessary to get a good bony union, so that the jaw will be as strong as ever.

During the war there were a great many cases of fractured jaws from gunshot wounds, from explosion and shell fire, falling out of airplanes and so forth, and much was learned in regard to bone formation that was not known before.

When a jaw has been injured and remains tender for any length of time, it should be X-rayed very carefully to find out whether or not there has been a fracture.

Fractures of the upper jaw are more rare than fractures of the lower, because the upper jaw is not exposed as in the lower jaw.

The lower jaw is more of a buffer than any bone in the body and is saved from breaking by its very wide movements.

Fractures of the upper jaw usually heal more quickly than do fractures of the lower; and also, the upper jaw, being surrounded by muscles that tend to pull it into place, does not present the usual difficulty in splinting.

Fracture of the upper jaw will cause very severe disfigurement if it is allowed to go unattended.

Necessary That Canada Should Grow

Nation Must Have Men, But Not Undesirable Ones.

Both war debt and the railway situation require that Canada must grow, in the opinion of the Journal of the Canadian Bankers' Association, which says that to grow up to these we must "people the vacant spaces." However rigorous the United States may be in immigration regulations, due to the fact that they are approaching the saturation point, Canada's policy, the Journal states, must afford to differ from that of her neighbor.

"It is well to remember," the Journal adds, "that a prosperous and advancing country has a greater digestion capacity than a stagnating country. Let us winnow out individual undesirables, . . . but men we must have. Not least, we must seek to keep our own sons from drifting southward."

IS YOUR STOMACH SOUR? DO YOU BELCH GAS?

If you have sour risings from the stomach, feel bloated and uncomfortable, just try twenty drops of Nervine in sweetened water. Relief will come quick. Nervine dispels the gas, sweetens the stomach, makes you fit and fine in a few minutes. As a general household remedy for many of the ills that constantly turn up, nothing is more useful in every home than a 35 cent bottle of good old "Nervine."

Will Be Honored Guest.

The Prince of Wales has accepted an invitation from the West India Committee to attend a banquet in London, on June 24, to be presided over by Lord Harcourt, the president. It is interesting to recall that it is just over 100 years ago that the committee had the honor of entertaining the Duke of Clarence, afterwards King William IV, and the Duke of York, the Prince's great-great-grandfathers.

Heart Weak, Nerves Shattered After the "Flu."

In a large majority of cases those who survived the last epidemic of Spanish influenza were left with weak hearts, shattered nerves, impoverished blood, and the whole system has been left in such a general weakened and exhausted condition that it has been impossible to get back your old health and strength.

If you are in this condition there is only one thing to do; take a course of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. My nerves were badly shattered, and I had such pains in my heart I could not sleep much at night. I took several doctors' medicines without getting any better. My husband got me to try Minard's Heart and Nerve Pills, and after I took one I got relief after taking six boxes have been well and not bothered since."

Mrs. W. W. Pearce, 14 Seaton St., Toronto, Ont., writes: "I was left with a weak heart and in a rundown condition from the 'flu.' My nerves were badly shattered, and I had such pains in my heart I could not sleep much at night. I took several doctors' medicines without getting any better. My husband got me to try Minard's Heart and Nerve Pills, and after I took one I got relief after taking six boxes have been well and not bothered since."

Burbank's Latest

Has Evolved New Wheat Which Is Exceedingly Early.

After experiments extending over eleven years, Luther Burbank, the great Californian horticulturist, is said to have evolved a "quality" wheat, containing over fourteen per cent. gluten, an astonishing improvement in this grain. The new type of wheat has a very large white, flinty kernel and produces a very white flour.

The new wheat, according to Mr. Burbank, is an exceedingly early wheat, being the earliest of some four or five hundred varieties which he has been growing. It has been tested alongside sixty-eight of the best wheats in the world, and has exceeded them all in yield, uniformity and all other desirable characteristics. The growth is strong, being four feet on good ordinary soil, it tillers unusually well, on an ordinary valley soil, with special cultivation, care, or fertilizing, produced this summer at the rate of 49.88 bushels per acre, every plant and every kernel being uniform, as this wheat was originally grown from one single kernel.

She Feels As Fine As A Growing Girl, Says This Winnipeg Woman

"My heart goes out to anyone suffering from indigestion and nervousness, and I want to tell them all about this grand Tanlac, for it is the medicine that relieved me of these troubles and restored my health," said Mrs. S. Jackson, wife of a prominent business man residing at 429 Agnes St., Winnipeg.

"Before I got Tanlac I was in a dreadfully nervous condition. I couldn't stand the least little noise, and at times I became so upset I afraid I would go into hysterics. My appetite was so poor I had no desire to eat, and couldn't relish my meals at all. My food didn't digest properly, and I was in a badly rundown condition. My sleep was restless and broken, and I felt miserable all the time."

"Well, Tanlac has rid me of all my troubles and put me in such fine health I feel as fine as when I was a growing girl. I eat good and hearty and enjoy my meals, and never have a care or worry. Why, I feel as fine as anybody could want to feel, and I can't help but be delighted and enthusiastic over this wonderful Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold by leading druggists everywhere.

Livestock For England

Edmonton District Has Made First Commercial Consignment.

A livestock shipment of importance to Central Alberta breeders has just been made from Edmonton consisting of four carloads of choice steers, all weighing about 1,400 pounds, bought from their original owners at 8½ cents a pound, which have left for England. This is the first commercial consignment ever made from the Edmonton district overseas, and it is expected to be the precursor of a regular traffic.

A Household Medicine.—They that are acquainted with the sterling properties of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil in the treatment of many ailments would not be without it in the house. It is truly a household medicine and as it is effective in dealing with many ordinary complaints it is an inexpensive medicine. So, keep it at hand, as the call for it may come most unexpectedly.

Still Working On Lignite Problem

Additional $280,000 Needed For Building and Further Experimenting.

Experiments are still being made at the plant operating at Henshaw, Sask., under the Lignite Utilization Board. "The operations have not yet reached the stage of production on a commercial basis," says T. M. Molloy, provincial commissioner of Labor and Industries. "Uncertainty of delivery of material makes it impossible to tell when the plant will be in operation and when that is accomplished it will still remain to determine the commercial possibilities of the various methods with which they have been experimenting."

The experiments are being carried out under the joint direction of the Federal, Manitoba and Saskatchewan Governments. The board has found that it now needs an additional $280,000 to complete the buildings and go on with the experiments and the Saskatchewan Government has agreed to contribute $70,000 of this amount.

HON. T. A. CRERAR SAYS GET WILD LANDS LISTED

Leader of National Progressive Party Endorses Principle of Legislation Requested by Western Canada Colonization Association and Its Multitude of Supporters Throughout Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

Hon. T. A. Crerar's statement reads: "The proposal of the Western Canada Colonization Association that an inventory of unoccupied land be taken under Governmental auspices in the prairie provinces, and that the owners of such land should be obliged to fix a price at which they would sell to incoming settlers, is, I think, an excellent one. The fact that the price so fixed would be made the value for assessment of the special Wild Lands Tax would keep the owner of the land down to a price that was reasonably fair. Land speculation, and for that matter speculation in other natural resources, has been one of the worst evils this country has suffered from.

It is generally agreed that Canada needs more people but an immigration policy can only have permanent success if the people who are already living here are relieved of the artificial handicaps under which they have labored in the past, of which these speculations in land is one. The more people that come into the country the higher the land speculation raises the price. In the best interests therefore of the people of Canada the proposal that land held out of use should be made available for those who want to use it is sound and deserves the support of all good Canadian citizens. This step is in line with what the organized farmers of Western Canada have advocated for many years."

Coal Problem One Of Transportation

Canada's Manufacturing Industries Far Removed From Coal Supply. Ottawa.—Canada has immense supplies of coal in both eastern and western fields, but 70 per cent. of her manufacturing industries are located in Ontario and Quebec, where no coal is produced. Therefore the difficulty becomes one largely of transportation. This was the evidence given by the special House Committee on fuel resources by Joseph G. Hudon, of the Department of Mines.

Mr. Hudon declared that at Sheep Creek, Alberta, there was a large deposit of coal almost equal to anthracite.

Bolshevism in Ireland

Organization in Dublin Fostering Irish Republican Movement. London.—A despatch to the London Times from Helsingfors says it has been learned that a telegram was sent to Maxim Litvinoff, the Russian Soviet chief of legations abroad, March 29, which establishes "the existence of a Bolshevist organization in Dublin engaged in fostering the Irish Republican movement." This telegram, according to the correspondent, said: "It is of the greatest importance that the 'germ cell' in Dublin should get $50,000 pounds through Krassin." (Krassin is the Soviet Minister of Trade and Commerce.)

Traill Ore Tonnage Increases

Business Shows Big Lead Over Last Year's Figures. Nelson, B.C.—A 50 per cent. lead over last year's figures in tonnage of ore received so far this year is the record achieved by the Traill Smelter, whose margin over the 1920 figures passed the 50,000 ton mark the week just passed. To date 149,677 tons have been received against 89,741 one year ago. The Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company's own properties produced 147,579 tons of this.

Canada To See "Ali Star" Football

Tour of Scottish Team Is Creating Wildest Enthusiasm.

When the officers and members of the Scottish All-Star football team arrive in Halifax on May 18th, the desire of all Canadian football men to have an Old Country professional, first-class team of players come to this country, will be repeated.

The Dominion Football Association, through President Dan MacNeil and Secretary-Treasurer D. W. Roy, have completed final arrangements after several months' efforts and development, and are now on their way to the Atlantic seaboard to welcome the party on behalf of the Association which they represent.

The party of sixteen players, who have been chosen for this long deferred missionary football enterprise to cement the ties of the Empire and bind Canada and Scotland closer in the bonds of sport and brotherhood, left Glasgow, May 10, and will sail from Liverpool on the Cunard liner, S.S. Cameronia. Upon their arrival in Canada, the Canadian National Railways will take charge of transporting the party to the Pacific coast and return. In order that games may be played in the principal cities in Canada and as the tour is a missionary effort for the sake of sport, fostered in an Imperial spirit, for the good of our Dominion, making the enterprise "National," it was only fitting that the National systems should be utilized. This railway is bending every effort to make the tour a pleasant one for the visitors and special facilities will be placed at their disposal by the National line.

The forthcoming tour is creating the wildest enthusiasm in Canada and in addition to the matches played here, the programme will include four games in the chief cities in the States. Matches in Canada will be played at Halifax on May 18th; Montreal, May 24th; Ottawa, May 21st; Hamilton, May 26th; Toronto, May 28th; Port William-Port Arthur, June 1st; Winnipeg, June 4th; Regina, June 6th; Saskatoon, June 8th; Calgary, June 11th; Edmonton, June 14th; Vancouver, June 18th. On the return trip they will play at Prince Albert (June 28th); Winnipeg, July 1st; Toronto, July 6th. International games at Montreal on July 9th. The four games in the chief cities in the United States will be played between 9th and 26th.

The officials taking part in this patriotic football mission include Col. J. B. Wilson, V.D., chairman of the Third Lanark Club; Andrew Mitchell and Thomas Sloan, two of the directors; and Mr. Connell, who is manager of the undertaking. The lineup and personnel of the team is:

Craig Brown—Centre half-back of the Motherwell club, who came into the team when Cringan, the Celtic star, was forced to withdraw. Is credited with being a "team in himself" by Old Country experts, and is certain to make a lasting impression. John Marshall—One of the two players from English clubs, expected to tour with the Scottish team, played for Middlesbrough, and is credited by "Bedouin" as being the greatest right back of modern times. Starred in recent international.

James E. Gordon—Captained Scotland on several occasions. Formerly started for Rangers but has been performing for Dumbfries Athletic during the current season. Probably the most versatile player in Britain. Starred in recent international.

Alex Bennett—Albanian Rover, one of the finest and neatest dribblers playing the game in Scotland. Made his great reputation while a member of the Glasgow Rangers, and should delight Canadian soccer fans. Alex Troup—Dundee youngster, who has been the sensation of the football season. He has been the star performer for the Dens Park outfit, but reached the pinnacle of fame when he featured a recent international game. Is "slippery as an eel."

Jimmy Quinn—On retired list. Gained fame as centre forward for Celtic and Scotland. Of the aggressive, bustling type, he packed a wicked shot. Probably the best centre Scotland has produced. May play here occasionally.

James McMenemy—The dandy little inside winger, who contributed much to the success of Patrick Thistle in the recent Scottish Cup series. Formerly played for Celtic, and was frequently capped for Scotland. Known as the "Napoleon of Football."

Paddy Crossan—No Scottish team would be complete without one member from Edinburgh. "Auld Reekie's" back of the first water, suggest as he looks, but a veritable stone wall in the pinch. Possesses a powerful kick.

Alex McNair—Veteran right back of the Glasgow Celtic, hero of many international battles and considered one of the "brilliant" defence men playing the game in the Old Country. Of the "old-war-horse variety." Never beaten!

Jimmy Brownlie—Famous goal-keeper, who can be classed as a veteran. Has been faithful custodian for Third Lanark for many years, and has seen much service in international matches. One of the best exponents of last-line defence in the world—"Daddy of them all."

May Secure Truce in Silesia

Report Hostilities Suspended As Result of Negotiations.

London.—It is reported that negotiations between the Inter-Allied Commission in Upper Silesia and Adécor Koranyi, leader of the Polish insurgents in that area, resulted in the suspension of hostilities, says a despatch to the Central News from Warsaw.

It was agreed, according to this report, that the insurgents would occupy a line of demarcation agreed upon and remain in the positions pending final settlement of the Upper Silesian question, which is still pending in Allied councils, where it rested following the taking of the recent plebiscite in this area in dispute between Poland and Germany. The industrial territory, which has been largely over-run by the Poles, therefore, would remain under Polish occupancy.

Cannot Support Coalition Government

Scottish Member Blames Lloyd George Government For Irish Reprisals.

London.—Considerable interest has been aroused in political circles by the announcement of Sir Godfrey Collins, Member of Parliament for Greenock, Scotland, that he cannot give further support to the Lloyd George Government.

In a statement to his constituents, Sir Godfrey says that when he was elected he thought that the Coalition Government deserved a fair trial, but that he was now obliged to face the fact that the Coalition has failed to make good. Taxation provided for in the third budget since the armistice is in some respects heavier than at the end of the war, and authoritative relations have disclosed the responsibility of the Government for the reprisals in Ireland. He says also that he cannot countenance the Government's extravagance or its policy of reprisals in Ireland.

League to Meet in September. Geneva.—The assembly of the League of Nations will hold its next meeting in September in Geneva. President Dumbach of the League's council, has issued the call for this session.

Canada Spends Less On Navy And Militia Than Other Countries

Canadian Budget Will Not Affect Exchange

Announced Change Will Have No Influence On Rate.

New York.—The general opinion of the Canadian bankers here and of business men interested in the trade between the two countries is that the recent budget announcements of Sir Henry Drayton are not likely to have any immediate effect upon the exchange situation.

The discount rate on Canadian dollars has gone up a point in the past 24 hours, being quoted at 10 3-4 per cent. but representatives of the Canadian bank agencies here could offer no explanation other than that the rate has been subject to frequent fluctuations of late.

Sterling exchange is practically unchanged. According to Canadian financial men here the tariff changes which were forecast in the budget are not a nature likely to affect the exchange market, and the announced valuation can have no immediate influence upon the rate.

Plumbers Object To Labor Saving Device

Does Not Provide Enough Work For Installing Plumbers.

New York.—Testimony that a modern type of wash bowl, requiring 50 to 60 per cent. less labor for installation, had been barred from new buildings in New York by the Master Plumbers' Association, was given when the joint legislative committee investigating building combines received hearings after a week's recess.

One master plumber was alleged to have said the traps of the bowl would have to be taken apart instead of shipped as a unit, in order to provide more work for installing plumbers.

Progressing Towards Peace

Sinn Fein Representatives Have Brought Proposals to London.

London.—The negotiations for a settlement of the Irish controversy are proceeding smoothly, according to the Daily Mail, which says accredited representatives of the Sinn Fein have been in London this week and that they brought certain proposals to the Government's notice.

"It is understood," the Daily Mail says, "that there have been interviews with the Prime Minister. He certainly has been made acquainted with Eamon De Valera's views, and an optimistic feeling prevailing in Government circles."

Belgian King to Visit England.

London.—It was officially announced that Albert, King of the Belgians, would pay a visit of state to England early in July. The visit will begin July 4 and end on July 8.

Germany Unconditionally Accepts Reparation Terms

Prolonged Cheering Greets Announcement in the House of Commons.

Berlin.—The Reichstag accepted the Allied ultimatum by a vote of 221 to 175, thus yielding to the final demands of the Allied Powers, and in so doing, agreed to fulfill the terms of the Treaty of Versailles "to the capacity of the nation to do so."

Dr. Wirth, Centrist leader, finally succeeded in forming a coalition cabinet, composed of Centrists, Majority Socialists and Democrats, which confronted by grave necessity, specifically decided that acceptance of the ultimatum was the only course.

In making this announcement the new chancellor asked for an immediate decision, and in the voting, which followed, the Government was sustained. The Allied ultimatum required a definite reply, based on "Yes" or "No." No conditional reply would be entertained, and its ultimatum was formulated to expire on the night of May 12.

Berlin.—The Reichstag assembled at 9 o'clock and Dr. Wirth announced the formation of a new cabinet, with himself as chancellor and foreign minister.

Ottawa.—Naval and military expenditures of the Government were defended in the House of Commons when Hon. Hugh Guthrie, minister of militia, participated in the budget debate. Mr. Guthrie, who represented Canada at the financial conference held under the League of Nations at Brussels last summer, quoted statistics to show that Canada's expenditures on naval and military defence were lower than any country in the world. In Mr. Guthrie's views, they were so low as to make other countries look rather ridiculous. On a basis of population estimated at 8,000,000 people, the per capita expenditure for defence, including that for militia, navy and air forces, was only $1.89. The percentage of annual revenue to be devoted to defence purposes this year was 3.5 per cent.

Defence expenditure, including that for militia, navy and air force, and excluding Royal Canadian Mounted Police and the civilian air operations for the present year, was set out in the estimates at $15,215,000. Taken on a basis of population and estimating that there were nine million people in Canada this was a per capita expenditure of $1.69. On the basis of a population of eight million people the per capita expenditure for defence purposes would be only $1.89 per head. If the cost of maintaining the Mounted Police were added to that, Canada would still have the lowest per capita expenditure of any country in the civilized world. Figures submitted to the Brussels conference had shown the per capita expenditure for defence purposes of various countries as follows:

Australia, $6.13; New Zealand, $3.80; South Africa, $5.55; United Kingdom, $23.35; United States, $13.13, not including the upkeep of the national guard; Argentina, $2.72; Brazil, $2; Chile, $5.05; Denmark, $10.10; Holland, $4.08; Norway, $4.75; Portugal, $4.58; Spain, $2.43; and Switzerland, $2.20. Figures for Germany, Hungary, Russia and other European countries had not been received by the conference.

The percentage of annual revenue to be devoted to defence purposes this year was 3.5 per cent. Of every hundred dollars in revenue Canada would spend $3.50 on the whole defence of this country. In 1911 we had spent $9.50 of every hundred dollars in revenue.

Finland to Retain Aland Isles.

Geneva.—The Aland Islands commission has submitted its report to the League of Nations here, recommending that the islands remain under Finnish sovereignty, with guarantees for the safeguarding of the Swedish population.

Ship's Fireman Smothered.

North Sydney, N.S.—The steamer Manchester Exchange, which arrived here from Liverpool, reports that when two days out, about seven tons of coal in a cross bunker slid down, burying a fireman and smothering him to death.

Germany Unconditionally Accepts Reparation Terms

Prolonged Cheering Greets Announcement in the House of Commons.

terms was delivered to Prime Minister Lloyd George by Dr. Shamer, German minister to Great Britain, here.

Mr. Lloyd George announced in the House of Commons Germany's complete acceptance of all the Allied demands. His announcement was greeted with prolonged cheering.

Dr. Shamer then read the German reply to the Prime Minister, and Mr. Lloyd George immediately telegraphed the news to all the Governments concerned.

Berlin.—Germany's reply to the allied ultimatum accepting the terms laid down by the Allied Supreme Council in London, is confined to a repetition of the exact terms of the decisions of the Allies with regard to guarantees, disarmament, the trial of war criminals, and financial conditions. The reply states that Germany adheres unconditionally to these decisions.

This reply was sent to the Allied capitals, for transmission to the heads of the Allied Governments, after the Cabinet, headed by Dr. Wirth, the new Chancellor, had received what amounted to a vote of confidence in the Reichstag.

You can tell more about the inhabitants of a town by a trip through the back alleys than many persons imagine. Some back yards are neat as pins while others are sadly neglected. If either the front or back yard must be neglected, let it be the front one. Don't try to present a Queen Ann front with a Mary Ann back. An ill kept back yard is dangerous and a menace to good health.

An exchange tells the following story: "One day a preacher was out hunting, and during the day a rain storm came on. In order to keep dry he crawled into a hollow log. When the rain began to fall the log began to swell until he could get neither way. He thought his end had come, and when he recalled that he had not sent a subscription to the paper he felt so small that he crawled out of the log without difficulty." Does this story fit you?

The Red Cross stood for assistance to soldiers during the war. It now stands for the prevention of disease, the improvement of health and the mitigation of suffering throughout Canada. Membership in this organization will give everyone a chance to do something and to learn to take care of themselves. A drive will be instituted during the week of June 5 to increase the membership of the organization. Membership only costs a dollar a year.

We notice in our walks through the town that the people are taking a more serious interest in gardening than ever before, and almost without exception every lot is being prepared for a garden.

There are a number of useless dogs running about town. They are no good to their owners and no good to the community at large. They keep up barking and yelping at night, scare children, and make themselves a general nuisance. Now the Village need some revenue and one way is for the Council to round up these dogs and make the owners pay a license. Those who have dogs which they prize would not object to a small tax.

CANCER MORTALITY: IT CAN BE CHECKED

More Intensive Study Required to Permit Early and Accurate Diagnosis and Treatment

"Once qualify your doctors to diagnose quickly and then properly to treat these cancer cases, and a considerable part of the battle will be won."

Thus does Herbert Snow, M.D., in the September number of "The Nineteenth Century," definitely state the chief necessity in the campaign to overcome the annually increasing mortality from cancer.

The exciting causes of every kind of cancer have long been recognized by every practitioner of experience who has had occasion to specialize in the diagnosis and treatment of cancer. To the inexperienced, unfortunately, cancer is simply cancer, whereas to properly consider cancer causes it is first necessary to segregate the different species of cancer, and not confound all together under a single term, any more so than to include under the broad term "fever" the many varieties of that disease.

Together at last, in a better world!
—Ireland in Columbus Dispatch

There are ten known primary species of cancer, with twenty secondary varieties, and it is essential that a proper recognition of this fact precede any authoritative pronouncement on the causes which operate to induce and multiply the number of cases of this malady.

Mr. Snow, in his summary of reasons why cancer is everywhere increasing throughout the civilized world, emphasizes the fact that present day conditions of life are a largely contributing factor—the system is perturbed and distorted by nervous causes; trouble, anxiety, worry and general wear and tear. The malady is more general among women than among men, while all ranks of society are included.

One of the best preventives, therefore, is the cultivation of a spirit of cheerfulness and of greater equanimity—to overcome the temptation to yield to small and passing worries. Further than this everything that tends to up-build and sustain physical health and well-being aids in preventing the development of cancer. The forms of malignant cancer which attack men are usually due, in the first instance, to some palpable breach of nature's laws, for which the patient is responsible.

There is evidently nothing that will eradicate a true cancerous growth but the surgeon's knife or the cautery, in one form or another. Nature will occasionally hold it in check, sometimes assisted by proper medical treatment.

What is undoubtedly the first essential, however, in confining and reducing the affection of such large numbers by the cancer malady is a greater recognition of the fact that more attention must be devoted to the better qualification of our medical and surgical practitioners for the early diagnosis and treatment of the disease.

Prospectors Going North To Seek Lost Gold In Old River Bed

Somewhere in the big bend of the Peace River, bisected by a line from Fort St. John to the mouth of the Battle River, is an old river bed where the Peace once flowed, and to locate this ancient waterway prospectors are outfitting in Edmonton. Some have already gone in, including Jack Turner, late of the Yukon, while a number are preparing their packs for the journey. Several men from the gold fields of Alaska have reached Edmonton within the past few days, and the report of the mystic El Dorado north of the Peace having reached their ears, they also are en route to try their luck in the country north of the Clear Hills.

This minor stampede is the direct result of a story circulated amongst the old timers of the north country, the truth of which will doubtless be solved during the coming season. Here is the tale. Some years ago an Indian coming into Fort St. John from the country to the northeast of the post picked up a fair sized gold nugget which he discovered in a stream. Following this an old trapper, a white man, who made Fort St. John his rendezvous, came in to the Fort with a quantity of coarse gold which he had washed from some stream in a similar direction to that from which the Indian hailed.

Thereafter the old fellow gave up trapping and lived on the fat of the land, in care-free idleness at the post. Whenever his supplies of necessities ran low, he hitched his dogs to the sleigh and disappeared, but in a few days was back again with a fresh supply of gold.

This continued for a number of years, but fate overtook the old man and one day his body was found on the trail from the post. He still has a large credit account in the books of the H.B.C.

It is said by the northern that the only time when gold was available was when there was a heavy fall of snow, with which the old fellow apparently washed his mineral, when he had melted the white blanket into water. From an analysis of the circumstances, generally, it is thought that the place from which the gold was taken was some old river bed where the Peace once flowed, but whether the story is correct or not remains to be proved. Prospectors, however, are putting up good money to test the truth of the theory that the precious metal does exist somewhere to the north of Clear Hills in large quantities. Many men have prospected in the country previously, in the endeavor to locate the old man's secret, which died with him, but so far without success.

Miners possessing technical knowledge, claim that there is undoubtedly gold in paying quantities along the Peace, colors can be obtained in many places but not in sufficient quantity to provide pay dirt.

It is stated by an old H.B.C. man from the region of the Upper Peace that during the rush to the Klondike, that two men washing on the river found a bar from which they took a large quantity of gold. They went no further north, but returned to Winnipeg, with the intention of exploiting their find.

When they finally returned to the Peace country, they were unable to locate the bar from which the gold had been obtained, and it is thought that a slide from a cut bank on the other side of the river lodged in the stream, and deflecting the current, caused the bar on which they had been working to be carried out by the flood water.

The government party under Engineer Lynch which is to put down steel holes along the Upper Peace this summer is being eagerly watched by prospectors, and it is stated that a number of the latter are going north to see for themselves the result of these operations, as amongst prospectors the theory is general that gold exists in large quantities on the upper reaches of the big river.

Another Murre Egg.
A Plymouth Rock here, owned by Louis Laporte, of Somerset, has lent the field as quarry for the honor of laying the largest egg. The Winnipeg Free Press received a specimen of this fowl's ambitious effort—an egg measuring 9 1/2 inches around its longest circumference and 7 1/2 inches around the middle.

Canadians As Empire Builders

Playing Important Part In Development of British West Africa.

Canadians are playing an important part in the development of British West Africa. A Canadian, Major Gen. Guggisberg, is governor of the Gold Coast. General Guggisberg is a native of Oakville, Ont., and served with distinction in the British army during the war. It was Lloyd Harris, as head of the Canadian mission in London who brought Gen. Guggisberg and Major-Gen. Stewart, of railway fame, together. As a result Gen. Stewart, who was commander of transportation in France, has been awarded a contract for the construction of a great modern harbor at Agoradi, the chief port of the district, and for the building of thousands of miles of railways to tap various portions of this part of Africa. The work will take from three to six years to complete and already some 30 engineers, construction superintendents and physicians, nearly all Canadians associated with Gen. Stewart in France, have left for Agoradi. The Gold Coast is said to be one of the richest portions of Africa, with great manganese iron mines, mahogany, cotton, rubber, gold, oil, etc.—London Free Press.

Negress Wins Big Suit

Ownership of Rich Oil Lands Decided In Her Favor.

Lillie Taylor is probably the wealthiest negro woman in the United States as a result of a decision handed down in the state supreme court of Louisiana, decreeing her to be the rightful owner of a big tract of land in the southwest section of Claiborne parish, New Orleans, enormously rich in oil and gas deposits, and the value of which runs into the millions.

The question of her ownership hinged on whether or not an illegitimate child can inherit from its parents, article 238 of the civil code declaring that illegitimate children "belong to no family and have no relatives." During years that the suit was dragging in the courts the value of the land and its products steadily grew up into the millions, until now, when Lillie Taylor has finally been declared the owner of the lands, of the oil on it and of the oil in tanks and pipes that have taken it from the land, it is estimated at a fabulous figure.

It is reported that attorneys for Lillie Taylor are to receive a fee of upward of $450,000 for their services.

Captain Saves Ship From Waterspout

Steam Siren Used As Last Resort Proved Successful.

Capt. Avery, of the Ward line ship, Esperanza, reports that between Progresso, Yucatan, and Savannah, a week ago, the Esperanza lookout sighted a waterspout a mile high, several miles astern of the boat, but rapidly overhauled the ship. Capt. Avery tried to escape it but when he zigzagged the ship, the spout also zigzagged to the ship. For two hours this went on, the spout always one turn astern of the Esperanza.

At last the resourceful skipper brought himself of the steam siren and blew a blast at full boiler pressure, and presto, the air vibration caused by the whistling jiggled the spout so severely that it took a dead fall into the sea and the ship was saved.

The Water Spider.

A correspondent describes a peculiar spider that lives under water the greater part of its life. It builds a dome-like nest of silk among weeds in ponds and ditches, and fills the nest with air. In that strange house it lives and lays its eggs. In autumn it makes another nest at a greater distance below the surface of the water, and, having sealed itself in, it sleeps until spring. Taken out of the water, the spider looks like any other, but as soon as it is put back the bubble of air that it collects around its body makes it look like a ball of quicksilver. It is the only spider that has taken to a wholly aquatic life, says the writer.—Country Life.

On Its Way.

"And what is an egg?" asked the missionary who was testing his hopeful pupil's knowledge of English.
"An egg," said the boy, "is a chicken not yet."

Physician's Startling Discovery

Says People Can Live In Perfect Health Without Stomach.
That the stomach is a superfluous organ is the startling discovery of Dr. Victor Pauchot, reported to the Academy of Medicine.

Affirming that he has successfully removed the stomach from a woman fifty years old who had continued to live happily in perfect health, he reports that the operation also cured her of cancer.

"The stomach's action is purely preliminary," stated Dr. Pauchot. "The mechanism for the vital part of the digestion is in the small intestine with the intervention of the pancreatic juice and the bile. Therefore, providing the patient follows a light diet, the stomach can be dispensed with advantageously."

Prince Henry To Go In Army

Fond of Sports and Immensely Popular With Public.

Prince Henry, the third son of the King and Queen, who attained his majority on March 31, is destined for a military career. Although thrust somewhere in the background by his older brothers, the Prince of Wales and the Duke of York, Prince Henry is immensely popular with the public.

In stature he excels his brothers and is fond of sports and outdoor life. In pursuance of his inclination to be a soldier he went through the army class at Eton and afterward studied at Sandhurst, the English West Point. Last August the Prince was gazetted a second lieutenant of the King's Royal Rifles and at present is attached to the Thirtieth Hussars at Aldershot.

Thieves Were Original

Entered Church Near Lille, France, and Stole Bell.

At a time when such a large percentage of French criminals are specializing in thefts of jewelry, pocketbooks, and the more easily portable luxuries of life, it is almost refreshing to hear of such originality as was shown by the ruffians who devoted their attention to stealing a church bell weighing one and a half tons. Recently a considerable force of motor bandits entered the ruins of Essere Church, near Lille, France, and succeeded in hauling out a huge bell and placing it upon their lorry. They were surprised in the act by the night watchman, who made an attempt to resist the removal of the bell but was bludgeoned by the bandits, who got clean away.

Urges Development Of Peat Resources

Canada Has More Than 37,000 Square Miles of Bog.

A. Anrep, peat specialist of the geological survey, informs the special parliamentary committee on Canada's fuel resources that there was no reason why Canadian peat should not replace coal for heating purposes throughout the Dominion. This would relieve the Canadian public of dependence upon United States mines and would release all coal imports for industrial purposes.

Peat had proved satisfactory for cooking and open grates and for fuel during the fall and spring months. So far more than 37,000 square miles of peat bog had been discovered and should be developed. One ton and a half of peat would give as much heat as a ton of anthracite coal.

The ease with which coal has been secured from the United States militated against development of peat in Canada. Peat could be sold commercially at $9.00 a ton, and if production was increased the price should become more favorable to the public. After peat was removed, the excavated area could be drained and used for agricultural purposes.

Little Talk On Life.

"Life," said a tailor, "is a piece of stuff given to each man a coat—rich velvet to some, narrow homespun to others. Each must cut his coat according to his cloth, and as he makes it so must he wear it, long or short, patterned or plain well-fitting or ill."—Westminster Gazette.

Seized Liquor Valued At $40,000.

Sydney, N.S.—Seizure of liquor valued at $11,000 marked the fifth day of the bone dry Sydney campaign here. The value of liquor seized in the Sydney district since May 29th now totals $40,000 dollars.

The art of wicker-weaving has been a hand industry for more than 5,000 years.

Fort Norman Oil Find Is Outstanding Event

Officials Issue Warning However Against Mushroom Companies.

"Present indications are," says a statement issued by the department of mines, "that the reported discovery of oil below Fort Norman on the MacKenzie River may prove to be one of the outstanding events of the mining industry of Canada."

Officials of the department emphasize, however, that the indiscriminate purchase of stock in many of the mushroom oil companies that are being formed with the avowed purpose of acquiring petroleum claims in the MacKenzie River basin cannot be commended. Prospecting for oil under the best conditions is extremely hazardous and only trained geologists can properly carry out such work. The haphazard staking of claims for speculative purposes is to be discouraged, and it will likely be found later on that the great majority of these claims, acquired merely in the hope that could be turned over to companies prepared to sink wells, will be left on the hands of the speculators with resultant heavy loss to the unfortunate stock holders.

Sir James Loughheed, minister of mines, announces publication of a revised edition of the departmental report on the MacKenzie River basin. Inquiries are being received by the department from all parts of the world.

Suitable Jap Alliance Is Quite Feasible

London Papers Say It Is Fit Subject For Conference.

Declaring that the renewal of the Anglo-Japanese treaty is a proper subject for the consideration of the conference of the empire premiers, which will be held in London in June, two leading London Sunday papers, the Observer and the Sunday Times, publish interesting editorials arguing the need of effecting a new alliance with Japan which will be satisfactory to both the United States and the dominions.

The Observer, alluding to certain American statements on the subject, says the first anti-American step which might be made under a new Anglo-Japanese treaty would break up the British Empire. None of the dominions would ever consent to support the Mother Country in any action against the United States in the interests of Japan, but, on the contrary, would feel bound to actively resist, the Observer asserts.

The Sunday Times, which has no connection with 'The Daily Times,' controlled by Northcliffe, takes a somewhat similar view.

Last Offence Like Her First.

London's oldest shoplifter, who has spent over half of her 82 years' existence in prison, has been given the minimum punishment that could be inflicted, by direction of the home office. As a young girl she was sent to prison for a long term for her first offence, and as a consequence her whole life was ruined. She has been convicted between 30 and 40 times. She has been sent to prison for twelve months, where she is to be kept in the hospital. Her first offence, like her last, was stealing a piece of silk.

Radium Is Lost In Mysterious Manner

Authorities at Hospital Decline to Give Any Information.

Radium valued at several hundreds of pounds, belonging to the Sheffield Royal Infirmary, has disappeared mysteriously.

The authorities at the hospital—a voluntary institution, supported by public subscriptions—decline to give any information beyond the fact that the loss is "due to the unfortunate error of certain people."

The radium is stored and prepared for medical purposes at the University of Sheffield, and then transferred to the hospital.

A search among the city's ashes with a special apparatus is stated to be completed.

In 1914 a quantity of radium worth about £1,000, which had fallen on the floor of a ward in the Royal Infirmary at Liverpool, was recovered from a dust cart. It was located in the cart by Professor Wilberforce using an electroscope. The contents of the cart were then put into buckets by the hospital radiologist, and the buckets were sent one by one to the professor. The twelfth bucket contained the radium.

Constructed Propellers From Crude Material

Engineer in Frozen North Used Dog Sleigh Boards and Elk Hide Glue.

With a few dog sleigh boards, glue made from raw moose hide and some crude blacksmith tools, W. A. Johnson, a Hudson's Bay Company steamboat engineer at Fort Simpson, has constructed propellers with which one of the two small Imperial Oil Company airplanes recently returned from Simpson to Peace River. The story is told this month in The Beaver Magazine of the Hudson's Bay Company. The flying freighters broke their propellers at Simpson last month on their way to the Fort Norman fields and but for the emergency repairs made by Mr. Johnson both of the machines would have been stranded until the opening of navigation on Slave Lake, about July 1.

The Beaver's correspondent, an eye-witness, states that both machines crashed at Fort Simpson, smashing their big propellers. Wooden skis, which had been substituted for the usual wheels, gave way under one of the machines as it came down on a four-foot snowbank. The second plane, with four men, endeavored to continue the trip next day to Fort Norman. It had just taken the air when one ski dipped and the plane was spread-eagled on the snow with a broken undercarriage and a splintered propeller. None of the occupants suffered injury.

The Idle Young

Large Number Are Unemployed in United Kingdom.

An attempt is to be made to mitigate the grave danger attending the presence of the large numbers of unemployed juveniles who throng London's streets. At present 107,600 of these "young persons" are registered as unemployed in the United Kingdom.

New Governor Appointed.

Plans for the Winnipeg early development of the oilfields of Northwest Canada—which include retention of three-fourths of the oil discovered for the crown—were revealed by D. N. Pinner, Winnipeg, who announced that his brother, Oswald Sterling Pinner, had been appointed to the position of administrator of the territories, a post that virtually amounts to a governorship that vast wilderness.

"There is a steadily growing demand for fat Canadian cattle in the English market, despite the embargo and the fact that it costs approximately $100 to ship a steer from Western Canada to England and pay for its slaughter within ten days of landing."

This statement was made by John Burns, general manager of the P. Burns Company, Ltd. In speaking of the English market, Mr. Burns said that for the past twelve years there had been no demand. Now, in spite of the very high freight rates, both from here to the seaboard and across the Atlantic, despite the fact that Canadian cattle arriving in England must be for "immediate slaughter; this market was developing and the demand exists."

"There is actually a shortage of fat cattle in Western Canada at the present time to take advantage of this opportunity," said Mr. Burns.

Within the last few years the marketing conditions for cattle in the west have been undergoing a great change. This has been brought about by the transition from the period of the big ranches to the conditions of today. The country is now more thickly settled and individuals hold smaller acreage. Not many years ago the big rancher was the predominating figure. Vast acreage, most of it held under lease, gave him a domain on which cattle could be run by the thousands. Under such conditions it was natural that the marketing would naturally take place at one time in the year. As a result the great bulk of stock were sold to the packers in the months of September, October and November. It is evident even to the layman that this produced an unhealthy market condition. It meant that the packers were loaded up with stock at one period of the year, and received little during the other nine months. A glutted market and a fall in prices were almost always the result.

But with the settling of the country the big cattle ranches have gradually disappeared. More intensive cultivation has been followed by more numerous small herds of cattle and brought a better finished product to the market. Today the cry of many of the big men in Western Canadian farming is for even smaller farms. Gradually the market is being fed as the demand occurs. Mr. Burns hopes that the time is coming when there will be a steady marketing of cattle over the greater part of the year. This will mean less fluctuation in prices and better conditions for the farmer, packer and consumer.

The man who held on to breeding hogs, said Mr. Burns, would find himself in the best position eventually. Previous to the war bacon imported to the English market ranked in this order: Irish, Danish, Canadian, American. At the present time there is almost an equal demand for Irish and Canadian bacon. Little Danish bacon is coming in and the American product has lost much of its reputation owing to carelessness in preparation. There is a constant demand from English buyers for Western Canadian bacon and it cannot be filled today.

Although live shipments are being made to England at present and are being disposed of at some profit, conditions are far from favorable. In approximate figures it costs $30 to ship an animal from Calgary to the seaboard, $60 for ocean freight, and $10 for slaughtering and other charges on arrival. Rates like these make it unwise to ship anything but the very best finished cattle. Stockmen say that the animals generally pick up at least some of the weight lost in the trail journey and during the sea passage.

The Lamp In The Window

By Frank Wall

It was just a little cottage, standing in a corner of what had once been old John Humphreys' farm. John Humphreys was dead and the farm had been merged long ago in the magnificent grounds of the house built by some unknown millionaire on the crest of the hill.

There were all kinds of rumors about that house, but the only facts were that no one had ever seen the owner or had even heard his name. The house, a palace in white with broad terraces and smooth sloping lawns, was exquisitely furnished, but only the caretaker and the scrub-woman enjoyed its perfections. Day by day and year by year it stood there in the warm sunshine, and at night the moon played quaintly about its white walls and cast long slanting shadows across the lawns, and that was the only sign of life there for almost twenty years.

The little cottage stood near the road and was occupied by old John Humphreys' son. He kept himself aloof from his neighbors and was not very popular. They said he had no social ability, no human feelings, and perhaps they were right. Ordinarily his face was like a mask, but when sunset came and he saw his little lamp in the window overlooking the road, it softened into an extraordinary tenderness. If the neighbors could have seen him then, they might have changed their opinion of him.

And this had gone on for nearly twenty years. Every night he lighted the little lamp and when he had lighted it he sat by the window watching and watching and watching for some one who never came.

Sometimes there were noisy parties who had mistimed their arrival from New York, which was only fifty miles away, and they would come and ask for something to eat. He gave them the best he had, and then he would go back to his corner and stare down the unanswering road.

One night a furious storm broke over that part of the country. The rain came down in torrents and the vivid flashes of lightning made the big house on the hill appear even more impressive and beautiful. After he had lighted his little lamp, he stood watching the storm, and it was while he was so occupied that he saw an automobile toiling painfully up the steep slope of the road. It came to a standstill opposite the cottage and half a dozen people alighted and hurried up the little path.

They were all young except one, a very beautiful woman of about forty years of age. The others addressed her as Madame Lesia, and the cottager, sitting quietly in his corner, recalled her name as that of a great singer who, after years of struggle, had recently taken New York by storm. They were all artists of one kind or another, full of wild spirits, mocking every convention, and the one they called Madame Lesia was the wildest of them all. Yet there was this difference: that her wildness seemed to be forced. It was as though it struggled all the time with some deeper feeling, as though some secret fiber of her heart had been touched and she wished to hide it.

"Let us ask Madame Lesia," cried one in the midst of a furious argument; and the singer turned smilingly. "Jack Mountford says that if he were married he would sacrifice even his wife's happiness to his art, it need be; that art is supreme."

"And you, Helen?"

The girl laughed vivaciously and yet with an undercurrent of sadness. "I don't know," she murmured, "I want to be famous but I want to be happy too. Is it not possible to be both, Madame?"

The singer was staring at a photograph that stood on a side-table. It was a girl of perhaps twenty-three or twenty-four years of age, dressed in some cheap material, obviously village-repairs, but it so rarely noticed that for the transfiguring happiness that shone in her face.

"Do you see that girl?" she said quietly. "Do you notice how plainly she is dressed? And that cheap little wedding ring at which she is staring so intently? That girl isn't famous, yet she looks happy. And I," she added, as though speaking to herself, "I am not happy."

The cottager had left his corner by the window, as though drawn by the sadness in the singer's voice. "That is my wife," he said honestly. "We lived near here, but the lure of New York crept like a poison into her veins. She thought she could become famous and she left me."

"Some day perhaps . . ." said the singer softly.

"Every night I light my little lamp in the window and watch for her return," said the man passionately. "Always I hope that she will come back to the simple happiness she cast aside for the glitter you call fame."

Madame Lesia rose suddenly. "We all hope so," she said earnestly. "See, my friends, the storm is over. Who will prepare the car for the journey back?"

The young men of the party raced out all at once and the girls followed a moment later. Madame Lesia turned to the cottager. Her eyes were shining. "They told me you had gone abroad," she said.

The man lifted his hands in a gesture of despair. "For twenty years I have waited here," he said. "And now . . . you have come back, but you are famous. This humble life will appeal to you less than ever."

"I want you," she whispered, "that is all I care about. I would have spoken as soon as I saw you, but I was afraid. And as for the fame you speak of . . . it means nothing to me now."

Her companions were calling her. The man went to the window and took down the little lamp he had tended so faithfully.

"It is for you to decide," he said solemnly. "God knows I want you, but there is no bitterness in my heart now. If you decide to go back to your great world I will put out this light and there is an end of all my hopes."

The others were at the door now, and she went and stood by her husband. "This is how I answer that question, Helen," she said to the girl. "I left my husband twenty years ago. I have tasted all that fame can offer and now I come back home. You must go on to New York without me. This cottage is my home."

"No," cried the man in a ringing voice. "I have something else to say. You tired of me because you said I wasted too much time on that invention I was working on. Well, I justified my ambition as you justified yours." He went across the room and pulled aside the curtain, showing the big house on the crest of the hill, glorious in the moonlight. "That is the result of my invention," he cried. "That is the home to which you have come back."

A Matter Of Sense.

Cardinal Bourne is quite clear that there can be no complete separation of Ireland and England. He does not believe that the Irish want it. For this is a matter, not so much of sentiment, but of sense. The sooner that dream disappears the better.—The Argonaut.

AH AVEN FOR SUMMER

BY LORETTA C. LYNCH
An Acknowledged Expert in All Matters Pertaining to Household Management.

"We are five women who have secured a summer abode where our kiddies may have a good time and to which our husbands may commute daily. It is close to the seashore. The house, however, is very old, and by pooling our funds we were able to purchase it at a low figure. The men will do the necessary repairs, but it is up to the women to provide for furnishings, and for these we have not much money. There are three large rooms on the first floor and two large ones on the second floor. The new little windmill on the place which, I believe, may be repaired as to provide the house with water. Any suggestions will be appreciated."

When I read this letter I almost envied these fortunate women. It is a find in these days of high prices, and with certain alterations will undoubtedly be most comfortable during the warm days to come. Plan to use one of the large rooms on the first floor as a dining room. Have the men construct a long table with folding legs. Use folding camp chairs. Cover the table with plain white oilcloth. Should you care to use this room for a dancing party the tables and chairs may be folded up and placed away.

The porch adjoining the front room, which was described in your letter, should be repaired and enlarged and then screened in. It could be used for a family sitting room.

Plan to use one of the rooms on the first floor as a room for reading or study, or, on occasion, a guest bedroom. The other room will, of course, be the kitchen and laundry combined. Adjoining the kitchen, or, entirely separate from it, have the men construct a bathroom. If the windmill is working well, arrange to have it supply water to this bathroom. A shower might be arranged. Several partitions might be made so that several may don bathing costumes at the same time.

The larger room on the upper floor might be partitioned with curtains, or it may be made into a bedroom, or the other, ship fashion. The larger room might accommodate the women and children and the men might have the other room.

Good mattresses and springs are expensive. Personally, if you are within commuting distance, I should prefer to have the beds and bedding brought from home by motor.

You say you have not much money to spend on furniture. Most every family has on hand some article of furniture which seems too good to throw away and yet of which they would gladly dispose. Why not have each of the four families look over their households? No matter what the finish may be, sandpaper it down, and use mission brown or gray finish on the furniture. Seats made of cretonne or checked ginghams are shabby. Avoid, however, white in any form for the summer cottage.

For the wall finish, choose some of the composition boards which we find on the modern market. A cool green finished board of this type was seen in a seashore cottage last summer. The furniture was mission brown—made over to this shade—and the kerosene lamp had a shade of soft-toned yellow.

The floor had had its cracks filled with one of the patent fillers on the market and had been stained dark brown and waxed. Here and there was a green grass rug. It is my suggestion that each lady do the entire housekeeping for one entire day, with the children, perhaps, assisting her in part on the washing. In this way, each of the five women will have four days' rest out of every five.

Not the Ireland of History

According to Government Murders Are Committed by Imported Gun-men.

The dragging of a woman out of her humble home in the dead of night and shooting her to death, heedless of her pitiful appeals for mercy, and riddling her poor body with bullets under the open sky—surely this is not Ireland! Certainly, it is not the Ireland of history, in whose pages we find chivalry and tenderness and pity and gallant service rendered to worthy causes by a high-spirited race, who thrill to what is high and poetic, and find a catch in the throat for all things lovely and exalted.

The Government must be right; and the murders which suffice the check with shame are committed by gangs of ruffians who have been prime scoundrels for whom the sacredness of human life does not exist and who will kill for wages, without compunction or remorse. It must be so, for it is incredible that any Irishman would commit the inefable crime of murdering a helpless woman, whose appeal for mercy could not be withstood by the fiercest savages.

Bulgarian Labor Law Now In Operation

All Classes of Society Have Been Called to Fulfill Service Duties.

All classes of society in Bulgaria have been called upon to fulfill their service duties under the provision of the compulsory labor law, which was adopted a year ago. The law provided that men who had attained the age of 20 years and girls who were 16 years old, were to be called upon for a certain amount of compulsory labor for the state. Men were to work 12 months and women six months and none was allowed to emigrate until duties imposed had been performed. The number of persons coming within the scope of the law was 700,000, of whom 600,000 have been at work, the labor done comprising road making, sanitary service, digging of canals, street paving and the building of schools and reading rooms.

The National Concern

All Social Progress Is Dependent On Good Health.

Good health is, at least it should be, a matter of community and national welfare; for much of what we call social progress is dependent on it. It is a fact worthy of consideration that a sum of not less than $700,000,000 in wages is lost through ill-health each year in the United States alone. On an average we lose something like seven days a year from our working time, and when this is multiplied by the number of workers in this country, the sum total is a surprisingly large number.—From the Detroit News.

If the Blood is Kept Rich and Red You Will Enjoy Health.

More disturbances to health are caused by weak, watery blood than most people have any idea of. When your blood is impoverished, the nerves suffer from lack of nourishment and you may be troubled with insomnia, neuritis, neuralgia or sciatica. Muscles subject to strain are under-nourished and you may have muscular rheumatism or lumbago. If your blood is thin and you begin to show symptoms of any of these disorders try building up the blood with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills have a special action on the blood and as it becomes enriched your health improves. The value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in cases of this kind is proved by the experience of Mr. D. J. McDonald, North River Bridge, N.S., who says: "For some years I suffered severely with headache, pains in the back and a run-down condition. At times the pain in my back would be so bad that I would sit up in bed all night. From time to time doctors were treating me, but did not give me more than temporary relief. And then one day when I was suffering terribly a neighbor came to see me, and urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. After taking two boxes I felt relief. I got five boxes more and before they were all gone I felt as though they were giving me new life as in every way they built up and improved my health and strength. I am now working as a baker in a pulp mill, ten hours a day and feeling none the worse after my day's work. I say with pleasure that this condition is due to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50 from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A Summer Coat Of Navy Tussah

By Marie Belmont.

A silk coat is almost a necessity when dainty frocks are worn on cool summer days. This model is made of navy blue tussah, a silk that is not only smart-looking but thoroughly practical for all sorts of wear. This coat is designed with a generous, rolling collar which on occasion may be folded up more closely round the neck. A novel trimming appears upon it for tiny pompons of white silk are patterned upon the front, collar and cuffs. The narrow belt is fastened with two small roses made from the silk. The hat with jaunty upturned brim is decorated in the same manner as the coat.

Externally or Internally, it is Good. When applied externally by brisk rubbing, Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil opens the pores and penetrates the tissues, touching the seat of the trouble and immediately affording relief. Administered internally, it will still the irritation in the throat which induces coughing and will relieve affections of the bronchial tubes and respiratory organs. Try it and be convinced.

League Had To Be Created

Or Another War Would Have Menaced World's Peace.

We think it right to say, here and now, in our opinion, if a League of Nations had not been created at the peace conference at Versailles, if our aspirations and the aspirations of the world had not been aroused by it and the discussions growing out of it, and if the great majority of the nations were not already joined in an association for the preservation of the peace of the world, there would now be no hope of its attainment until another and a greater world war had compelled its creation. The thing had to be done when it was done, while the horrors of war were still fresh in the mind, if it were to be done at all, and if it had not been done then it would not be an issue, here or anywhere.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

How to Prepare Your Own Gopher Poison

There are many satisfactory commercial gopher poisons on the market. For any farmer who wishes to prepare his own, the Department of Field Husbandry of the University of Alberta, offers the following formula as being very satisfactory:

1. Add 1 oz of Strychnine Sulphate to 1 pint of boiling water.
2. Stir until dissolved.
3. Add a quart of water.
4. While boiling add 2 lbs. of Brown Sugar.
5. Add also a tablespoon of Anise seed.
6. Pour over a peck of wheat, corn or chop.
7. Let stand for 24 hours and add shorts if not all absorbed.

On Thursday of last week, Thomas Ryan and Edward Moorcroft, the two men who were arrested last December in connection with the burglarizing of J. Miller's store at Chinook, appeared before His Honor Judge Stewart in the district court at Hanna, and tried on the above charge. Both men pleaded not guilty. A number of witnesses were heard on behalf of the prosecution. After hearing the evidence the Judge dismissed the charge as the Prosecution failed to prove their case.

Immediately afterwards Ryan and Moorcroft were re-arrested on a charge of stealing a suit case on December 12, at Drumheller. Both men were convicted and sentenced to sixty days in Lethbridge jail.

Provincial Inspector's Report on Chinook

Mr. Head, Provincial Health Officer, was in town last Friday and Saturday. After a tour of inspection Mr. Head gave the following report of the sanitary conditions of the town:—

The sanitary conditions of the Village of Chinook at the present time leaves much to be desired and remedied regarding the back lanes and yards where accumulation of refuse and manure are quite noticeable. This state of affairs is both objectionable and dangerous to the health of the community at large for, with warm weather approaching flies by the thousands will very soon begin to spread perhaps disease among the inhabitants and especially among children. This is a condition which we are all trying to combat and with the co-operation of the public and draymen this difficulty will soon be overcome.

The inside premises of General stores, Butcher's shop, Pool room, Restaurants, and the Hotel are in a very clean and sanitary condition and no fault could be found from a sanitary standpoint.

The disposal of waste matters is one for serious thought as in most instances this is being deposited on the ground quite close to the dwellings this should be deposited at the rear of lots as far away as possible from the houses for apart from being objectionable to the eye bad odors arise from same and penetrate throughout the houses.

The present tie-posts are very objectionable and should be removed as at these places on Main Street stagnant pools of animal matter and urine exist.

A public convenience is also much needed necessity for the farmers and transients who visit the community, and with the co-operation of both the Public and the Local Authorities very little effort would be required to make this Village second to none from a sanitary standpoint.

G. P. Head,
Provincial Inspector.
